December 2019

To Whom It May Concern,

Regarding: Storm ATP NavPad, 5 key

As a pro-active vendor, Storm Interface is giving notice to our customers of a product discontinuation. Manufacture of the Storm NavBar 5 key will be discontinued as from January 1st 2020.

Storm product part numbers affected by this discontinuation are:-

Part Number	Description
EZ05-23001X	Storm ATP NavPad, 5 keys, USB interface, audio processor
EZ05-22201X	Storm ATP NavPad, 5 keys, USB interface
EZ05-21001X	Storm ATP NavPad, 5 keys, matrix interface

Please note: An X in the part number represents any character or additional sequence of characters.

Only the 5 key variant of the NavPad is being discontinued.

Other products in the Storm ATP NavPad range are not affected by this change.

Because of the discontinuation, it has been necessary to update the product documentation for the other products in the NavBar range to remove all references to the 5-button variant. Please be sure to replace the NavPad product documentation with the updated documents that will be provided by Storm.

Customers looking for a suitable replacement should consider the 6 or 8 key NavPads as listed below:

Part Number	Description
EZ06-23001	NavPad, 6 buttons, USB, 3.5mm audio jack (cable supplied separately)
EZ08-23001	NavPad, 8 buttons, USB, 3.5mm audio jack (cable supplied separately)
EZ08-22301	NavPad, 8 buttons, USB, supplied with 2.5m cable

Thank you for your continued recognition of Storm Interface as a leader in product innovation. We continue in our commitment to provide you, our customer, with the very best products available.
